Subject: RE: Copy of Assignment Document

Dear Frank: Thank you for sending me today the assignment document you referred to in the conference call with Judge Poppiti on Friday. I am sure your failure to send it before was an oversight, or the result of an unintentional miscommunication with one of your colleagues. However, I am concerned because, contrary to your representations to Judge Poppiti, the document you forwarded to me bears bates numbers LPL 006417-006421, so it had previously been produced by LG.Philips. You told the court that we had failed to produce the document. This was not correct, and I would like you to correct the matter with the court on Monday so I do not have to. Please refrain from making misrepresentations to Judge Poppiti in the future. Thank you for your anticipated cooperation. Regards, Gap

Dear Frank: No one on my team has received anything from either you or Mark. I do not have a copy of what you were referring to. Please resend immediately. Also, please send me the e-mail that Mark supposedly sent on Friday because I would like to figure out why no one received it. Also, on Friday you told me you had the alleged document as part of an e-mail on your laptop in the deposition room and you told me that you would forward the document directly to me. Apparently, you did not do so. I am again requesting that you send the document by e-mail to me immediately, and copy Rel and Cass. Thank you for your anticipated cooperation. Regards, Gap

Mark forwarded a clean copy to you Friday afternoon. My understanding is that you already have a copy, in any event. If you did not get a copy from Mark, let me know and I will have it resent.

Subject: Copy of Assignment Document

Dear Frank: During the conference call with Judge Poppiti on Friday, you referred to an assignment document that you said you had in your possession that was in the PTO file that had not yet been produced in discovery in the case. I asked you to provide me with a copy, and you said you would e-mail it to me. I later gave you my card at the deposition on Friday afternoon with my e-mail address on it, and again asked you to e-mail the document to me. You again said you would. However, I have not yet received any e-mail from you with the assignment document. Please e-mail the document to me before Monday. Thank you for your cooperation. Regards, Gap
